This Privacy Policy explains how we collect, use and disclose your personal information, how you may access that information and how you may seek the correction of any information. It also explains how you may make a complaint about a breach of privacy legislation.

This policy is current from September 2020. From time to time we may make changes to our policy, processes and systems in relation to how we handle your personal information. We will update this Privacy Policy to reflect any changes. Those changes will be available for you in the practice.

Delta Dermatology and what do we do

Delta Dermatology is a private medical practice that specialises in general, vulval and paediatric dermatology.

Collection of your information

We collect information that is necessary and relevant to provide you with appropriate medical care and to manage our medical practice. This information may include your name, address, date of birth, gender, health information, family history and contact details. This information will be stored on our computer medical records system.

Wherever practicable we will only collect information from you personally. However, we may also need to collect information from other sources such as general practitioners, treating specialists, radiologist, pathologist, hospitals, other health care providers and My Health Record to assist in your medical care.

We collect information in various ways such as over the telephone, in writing, in person in our rooms at Kingsford or over the internet if you transact with us online. This information may be collected by medical and non-medical staff.

There are instances where photographs may be collected as part of your treatment and stored.

In emergency situations we may also need to collect information from your relatives or friends.

We may be required by law to retain medical records for certain periods of time, depending on your age at the time we provided services.

Dealing with unsolicited information

If we receive personal information that Delta Dermatology did not solicit, we will determine whether it could have been collected in the usual way and if not then it will be destroyed in accord with the APP.

Anonymity and pseudonymity

Wherever it is lawful and practicable you have the option to request that we deal with you under a pseudonym or anonymously. However, it may be necessary for us to collect your personal or sensitive information for your health care treatment. If you choose to withhold the information we require, we may not be able to provide the treatment you require.

Security of your information

We take reasonable steps to protect your personal and sensitive information held by us from misuse, interference, unauthorised access, modification, loss or disclosure. This includes during storage, collection, processing, transfer and destruction of the information.

Information is stored in secure electronic databases. Employees and clinical staff of Delta Dermatology, any contracted third parties and other parties to whom we disclose your information sign a confidentiality agreement that requires them to comply with the Privacy Act and our Privacy Policy.

When we no longer require your personal information we will take reasonable steps to destroy the information or ensure that the information is de-identified.

Use and Disclosure of your information

We will treat your personal information as strictly private and confidential. We will only use or disclose it for purposes directly related to your care and treatment or in ways that you would reasonably expect that we would use it for your ongoing care and treatment. For example, the disclosure of histopathology results to your referring doctor or requests for diagnostic testing. We may also disclose your personal information in accordance with a Patient Consent for Collection, Use and Disclosure of Information form where you have completed one.

We may disclose information about you to outside contractors to carry out activities on our behalf, such as an IT service provider, solicitor or debt collection agent. We impose security and confidentiality requirements on how they handle your personal information. Outside contractors are required not to use information about you for any purpose except for those activities we have asked them to perform.

We will not use your information for another purpose unless you have given consent or one of the exceptions under the Privacy Act applies. For example, if the use of the information is authorised by Australian law or is necessary for law enforcement by an enforcement body.

The access and use of your information contained in your My Health Record, where there is one, is in compliance with the My Health Records Act 2012 (Cth), My Health Records Rule 2016 and My Health Records Regulation 2012. All Delta Dermatology employees are regularly trained in the access and use of a patient's My Health Record.

Artificial Intelligence Technology

We use artificial intelligence technology during your consultation to enhance the accuracy and efficiency of gathering and recording information. We will take reasonable steps to ensure that your personal information is accurate, complete, up to date and relevant. For this purpose, our staff may ask you to confirm that your contact details are correct when you attend a consultation. We request that you let us know if any of the information we hold about you is incorrect or out of date.

Personal information that we hold is protected by:

- Securing our premises
